Mr. Gregory, while not violent, has been displaying evidences of mental aberration for the past six months. We hope he may soon recover from the affliction.

The Iron Mountain R. R. is having the fences along its right of way rebuilt. The old-fashioned barbed wire is being discarded and a wire mesh fence substituted. The old fences had become so poor that they were no longer a restraint upon stock, and in consequence the trains have been killing cattle at a lively rate for some time, resulting in a lot of claim bills.

Mr. S. Eye of Shirley was a caller at this office Wednesday to settle with the printer. He is just convalescent from a severe attack of typhoid fever.

A pine log 72 feet long and two feet in diameter at the butt was hauled through Potosi Tuesday to Flat River, where it will be utilized as a derrick arm. The log was cut in the pine woods west of Potosi.

The Iron Mountain R. R. will soon put twenty-five new locomotives on to the passenger service of the road. The engines are twelve tons heavier than any heretofore used on the road and are so powerful that they will take a ten-car train over the Hogan Mountain and Gad's Hill grades without the assistance of double-header. They are also built for speed.

We notice Pevely has a nice new railroad depot, yet Pevely as a shipping station, outside of its milk business, does not approach Potosi. The same may be said of passenger traffic. Potosi must nevertheless be content with the disgraceful shack that the railroad company maintains here as a depot. We wonder what kind of depot Pevely had?

Typhoid fever has been epidemic in the home of Godfrey Deane, in Liberty township, five members of the family having the disease now, and one, a child, died with it a few days ago. Typhoid fever is attributable to well-known causes, generally the water supply, and when the disease breaks out the water from the usual source should be discontinued at once or boiled before using.

State Immigration Commissioner J. H. Curran, accompanied by Mrs. Curran, her mother, Mrs. G. G. Pollard, and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hutchings, all of St. Louis, came down to Potosi last Saturday evening and spent Sunday in our town. The party left Monday morning for a tour through the country by way of Palmer and Belgrade. Mrs. Hutchings is a well-known newspaper writer, and, with the collaboration of Mrs. Curran, is writing a series of character sketches in the Ozarks. The trip is being made partly for the purpose of getting local color for these articles. The first of these sketches appeared in the magazine section of last Sunday's Globe-Democrat.

The ball game last Friday afternoon between the Business Men and High School teams turned out very much of a farce, the latter winning, score, 17-7. The Business Men broke all records by piling up a grand total of 21 errors. Wm. Settle was the chief blinder for the B. M., getting 3 safe runs, while the base-running of Hornsey of the same team was the feature of the game, he having 6 stolen bases to his credit. B. Boyer, a sub for the Business Men, got in the game long enough to get tapped on the cupola. In the last inning of the game Hornsey was pretty badly shaken up, when in sliding into home base his head came in contact with the hard ground. It was at first thought that he was badly hurt, but he soon came through all right. A crowd of between 250 and 300 persons saw the game.

Death By Lightning.

On last Sunday morning the dead body of an unknown man was found three or four miles from Bismarck, on the road leading from that place to Caledonia. An inquest was held by the coroner of St. Francois county, the verdict being that the man's death resulted from a stroke of lightning while he was standing under a tree, where he had evidently taken shelter during a shower. The tree stands on the line between Washington and St. Francois counties, and the man in falling landed in the latter county; whereas, he would have landed in Washington county. The deceased was about fifty years old, 5 feet 5 inches tall, weight, 145 lbs; had black hair mixed with gray. He wore a black coat and trousers, black hat, grey-striped working shirt, badly worn shoes. On his person was found two pipes, a little string tobacco, lead pencil and 20 cents in money. His tracks in the road indicated that he had come from the direction of Caledonia, and it is thought he was a resident of Washington county. At last reports he had not been identified, however. The body is being held for a week at the undertaking establishment of Henry Adkins, in Bismarck, in the event of some one coming forward to claim it.

Six of the St. Joseph Lead Co.'s calclines at this place were fired up Tuesday morning with three shifts, which means employment for about fifty men, and possibly more will be fired up as soon as some repairs can be made. The starting of these furnaces was a very pleasant surprise to our people and means much for Leadwood.—Leadwood Banner.

Adam Berringer of Flat River was killed by a train on the Illinois Southern R. R. last Wednesday. The train caught the man on a trestle between Central and Flat River. On the same road and neighborhood Joseph Baker was fatally injured by a train which caught him a cut. Sheriff Chapman this week showed the Democrat News a new invention to take the place of handcuffs, usually used on prisoners when conveying them from one place to another. The new invention is built on the same lines as the old handcuffs that encircled the wrists of prisoners, but are much smaller, and are used on the thumbs instead of the wrists and can easily be carried in the vest pocket of the officer.—Fredericktown Democrat.
